ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. T. Lindstrom, of Wainwright, announce the marriage of their eldest daughter, Irene May, to William Butler, only son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Flah, of Wainwright. The wedding took place on Saturday evening, July 13th, at St. Thomas' (Ang.) church, Rev. R. Ross officiating.

Wide Powers Given In the Weed Act

Every farmer worthy of the name knows without being told that he must take care of the weeds on his land or they will "take care of him." Some years ago legislation was drawn up, which was designed to guarantee to those farmers who are doing all within their power to combat weeds, some measure of protection against so-called farmers who refuse to take any action toward ridding their land of weeds. This year, more than ever, a determined effort will be made to enforce the Noxious Weeds Act of Alberta. From this Act we quote in part:

"It shall be the duty of every person who is the owner of any parcel of land and of every person who has any beneficial interest in any parcel of land and of every lessee, tenant or occupant of any parcel of land to prevent any noxious weeds from growing upon such parcel of land, and to comply with all the provisions of this Act."

Moved by Coun. Taylor—That By-law No. 67 re sale of the S.E. 4-4-5 to E. A. McLeish be given third reading and finally passed, and that the Reeve and Secretary are hereby authorized to prepare, sign and seal an agreement and all other papers in connection therewith.—Carried.

Moved by Coun. Traynor—That the Secretary's holiday begin on July 25, 1940, and continue until August 7th, 1940.—Carried.

Moved by Coun. Mills—That the bills and accounts, in a total of $1,968.78, be passed and ordered paid.—Carried.

Moved by Coun. Jones—That Pay Sheet, in a total of $2,268.90, be passed and ordered paid.—Carried.

Moved by Coun. Traynor—That the following Form B's be passed: Div. 1, $1,450; Div. 2, $2,100; Div. 3, $1,850; Div. 4, $1,500; Div. 5, $2,000; Div. 6, $2,100.—Carried.

Moved by Coun. Withnell—That this meeting now close, our next meeting to be August 13th, 1940.—Carried.

Queen's Kin Safe

Safe now from the threat of German bombs, his hundreds of other British children who have crossed the ocean, are these two youngsters, niece and nephew of Queen Elizabeth. They are Davina Bowles-Lyon, 10, and her brother Simon, aged eight, shown as they reached New York. They were en route to the Charlottesville, Va., home of financier J. P. Morgan, where they will be guests.

Big Crowd Sees Vaudeville Show

Having raised the art of merriment and vaudeville offering to the nth degree, the Imperial Three Star Entertainers received well-merited plaudits from a truly packed house at the Little Theatre on Wednesday last.

A matinee for the youngsters given in the afternoon, was also duly appreciated by a houseful of the young generation.

Under the capable handling of Mr. F. R. Anders, whose ability as M.C. would indeed be hard to beat, the whole troupe of ten artists put on a splendid evening's show, consisting of vocal and instrumental offerings, delight of hand tricks and full-orchestra numbers, and one which received full appreciation from the hundreds who attended as guests of the Imperial Oil Co. agents and distributors in this district.

During the evening, time was allowed for Mr. W. Huntington, who introduced Mr. Anders at the opening, to extend a plea to all present to assist in the government's war effort by the purchase of war savings stamps—a means whereby everyone from six to sixty (and beyond) can lend their aid in the struggle in which our Empire is at present engaged.

This was the second appearance of this talented bunch of entertainers in Wainwright, and the hosts of the

City Physician Sells War Stamps

Illustrating the ingenuity of many people in promoting the sale of war savings stamps and certificates is the plan of an Edmonton physician.

The doctor bought 50 war savings stamps at the post office and obtained several folders. On each folder he pasted one stamp and then a folder was left in prominent position on a desk in the waiting room.

Nervous patients, looking for something to take their minds off their troubles, showed interest in the folder. That gave the doctor his cue and he served the folder, already started, to the patient. He has sold the 50 folders and now is started on a second 50.

We learn from the authorities in the city that the results of the recent examinations for grade XII mathematics will be available by the end of this week, and that markings of grade IX will follow in a couple of days.

The rear portion of the premises will form a stockroom and warehouse.

According to present arrangements the work is to be completed by August 15th.

Marriage Vows Exchanged Sunday

A quiet wedding took place at the United Church parsonage on Sunday evening, when Miss Mabel Grace Wandell, of Wainwright, became the bride of Mr. Austin Allan Kinghorn, also of Wainwright.

Rev. A. D. Richard performed the ceremony, which was witnessed by immediate relatives only.

The bride wore a gown of light blue and was supported by Miss Marcella Plaster, who chose a green crepe frock for the occasion. Mr. Lloyd Galloway acted as the groomsmen.

Following a honeymoon at Jasper, Banff and Vancouver, for which the young couple left by motor, Mr. and Mrs. Kinghorn will take up residence in Wainwright and the good wishes of the community go out to them for a long life of happiness together.

Mrs. Alice Cartier, of Totolod, has been visiting relatives at Fabyan for a short holiday.

Bicycle Contest Sees Changes This Week

Who gets the bike? Just who? That is the burning question now with the contest rapidly nearing its final spurt for votes.

This week sees two new little ladies entering the running and both of these are putting forth every effort to secure the big prizes—if not the bicycle itself! And although their collections were not received in time for inclusion in this week's listing, it would seem that their determination is going to prove the mettle of the other competitors.

Miss Georgina Gardiner, of Wainwright, is seeking your support in her endeavors to be a winner, while little Miss Josephine Amritsar, a newcomer to our district, has been assured of a great amount of support in her efforts in the same direction.

With regard to the boys in the contest, Amos Church has jumped in to the lead with a total of 1,400, although just one more subscription by his runner-up, Parker Currie, would place the latter again in that coveted position.

We understand, too, that some of the other little fellows are holding back for a big surprise spurt in the last few days! For that reason, of course, it is impossible to predict just what may happen in the finale, and which happy youngster will have the proud possession to become the envy of all at the opening of the coming school term.

Our two young ladies at the bottom of the list are no doubt working quietly along, and we hope they will be increasing their voting strength in our next report.

The standing on Saturday last was as follows:

Amos Church — 1,400
Parker Currie — 1,350
Ann, Carroll — 750
Harvey Hamilton — 650
Robt. Street — 450
Elsie Wear — 250
Connie Wear — 250

One point on which the youngsters seem to be missing out is the fact that subscriptions taken for years in advance will give the same value in votes for the grand prize bike, and other prizes.

A very wide circle of friends in Alberta wish Mr. and Mrs. Burke a full share of happiness in their new home in Macleod, and a long and happy married life.

Funeral services were held Monday in Foster and McGarvey's chapel, Rev. A. D. Richard, pastor of Wainwright United Church, conducting the services. Interment was made in the Edmonton cemetery.

BRITAIN'S CAUSE

We are fighting for Democracy. From God above, we ask To steer us in our right cause To help us in our task.

We have fought before for liberty. For freedom, right of speech, And all the other things of truth That Holy Bibles teach.

The world is now a place of fear, Unfit for human life, And we pray thee Lord to help us In this grave time of strife.

Germany may fight for power, For riches, tracts of land; But we shall forever fight for right And for true Democracy stand.

—John MacPhree.

Our Farm News Letter

Mr. H. L. Seaman, Dominion Entomological Laboratory, Lethbridge, Alberta, states that fall cultivation, or cultivation following harvest, may be of considerable value in controlling insect pests in Alberta. For many years, deep and well turned fall ploughing has been recommended for the control of grasshoppers and the wheat stem sawfly. However, there are times when fall ploughing is impracticable because of a lack of fall moisture and the tendency of fall-ploughed lands to drift during the winter and early spring. Under such conditions, shallow tillage, which leaves the stubble on the surface as a "fresh cover", should be used. This type of fall cultivation has also been shown to have a value in insect control.

Fall ploughing is particularly valuable in controlling grasshoppers and wheat stem sawfly in stubble lands that are to be summer-fallowed or seeded the next spring. The soil must be well turned with a mouldboard plough so that grasshopper eggs and stubble infested with wheat stem sawfly are completely buried under five or six inches of soil. Ploughing that does not bury all of the stubble or that leaves the furrow slices standing on edge, is of little value in controlling these pests, since the control is dependent on complete burial with no openings through which the emerging insects can escape in the spring.

Shallow fall cultivation has been found to be reasonably effective in Alberta in controlling grasshoppers and is partially effective in controlling the wheat stem sawfly. Where fall ploughing is impracticable, stubble lands containing grasshopper eggs should be cultivated to a depth of not more than two inches. The implement used should be drawn at a sufficient speed, preferably about 4 1/2 miles per hour, to throw the surface soil and scatter the grasshopper eggs and stubble on the soil surface. The majority of the eggs so exposed will either dry out or be killed by excessive heat. In some instances the sawfly larvae in the exposed stubble have been killed.

While such shallow fall cultivation has been found to be a good control for grasshoppers, its effect on overwintering larvae of the wheat stem sawfly is variable. It can be said, however, that shallow fall tillage of stubble lands will not increase the chance of severe sawfly infestation the next season and it may materially reduce it.

POWER MOWERS

The increasing tendency of farmers to use tractor power exclusively has led to the introduction of many special tools, one of which is the power take-off mower. During 1939 tests were conducted at the Dominion Experimental Station, Swift Current, to determine the suitability of this type of mowing equipment, states D. S. Horne. Three types of mowers, namely, drawbar mounted, semi-trailer cater wheel and wheel mowers were used during the tests. The tests were arranged so that information on the speed of operation, areas cut at each speed, observations as to the performance of the mowers, the quality of the work done and detailed cost data was obtained.

The tests were conducted on a large hay flat. The work was laid out so that each unit could be operated at a variety of speeds on short runs and also allow each unit to work on a large block of hay. In this way it was possible to obtain a measure of the number of acres cut at each speed after allowances were made for turns and necessary stops.

It was found that the mowers made a clean job of cutting at speeds as high as seven miles per hour. However, at this speed the height of cut was uneven, due to the bouncing of the tractor. Some difficulty was experienced with hay wrapping around the universal joint of the power take-off shaft. However, a guard could be placed around the shaft which would remedy this situation.

A single mower was no load for the farm tractor and it would be possible to use a power mower and a ground-driven trailer mower behind each tractor. This would give an increase in the acreage covered per day with a very slight increase in total cost. It was possible to cut from 2.5 to 3 acres per hour with each unit at a total cost of approximately 30 to 40 cents per acre. A small 10-horsepower tractor pulling a seven-foot mower cut 4.23 acres per hour at a cost of only 28 cents per acre. This test indicates that there is a definite place for the power mower on many farms and ranches. The power mower compares very favorably with the horse-drawn mower which cuts 1.2 acres per hour at a cost of 48 cents per acre.

HEALTH

A HEALTH SERVICE OF THE CANADIAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION AND THE INSURANCE COMPANIES IN CANADA

YOUR SUMMER HOLIDAY

Soon the hot season will be here and city people, at least, will be casting their thoughts in the direction of the holiday resorts, the lakes and the wilds. While holidays are important it is even of more importance that the holiday should improve one's health and not, as in many instances, do harm rather than good. From the standpoint of health, there are many factors which should influence the final decision in choosing the place for a holiday.

Water and Milk Supplies: Of these factors none are quite so important as the water and milk supplies, particularly if children are of the group. Other factors which should interest the holiday makers if the holiday is to be spent in one's cottage or camp are the disposal of night soil and garbage. If bathing beaches are available they must be selected with reference to safety of swimmers and freedom from sewage.

Most persons regard sparkling water from a stream, the old-fashioned well and village springs to be the sources of pure water. Very often they are just the opposite. Water, like individuals, corresponds to the company it keeps. If brooks, springs and wells are exposed to the contamination of millions of persons, it is very often dangerous. Water coming from creviced rock may carry the germs of disease from considerable distances. Wells without a sealed top or whose walls are constructed of loose stones will readily admit surface contamination. The water supply of small towns and villages cannot always be trusted to be pure. Health departments of large cities and Provincial Health Departments usually supply containers for free examination of water and in some cases tablets which will purify suspicious supplies. For every householder a sure safeguard remains, namely, to boil all the water used for drinking purposes. Boiled water tastes flat because it has been deprived of oxygen. This condition may be remedied by transferring the water from one pitcher to another a few times.

Harmful germs such as those causing typhoid fever and tuberculosis and others, can live and multiply in milk. The hot weather of summer makes it difficult to keep milk fresh. No milk is safe for use unless it has first been boiled or pasteurized. For more than 25 years it has been completely established that pasteurization of milk makes it proof against all milk-borne diseases. Why take a chance? Home pasteurization may be carried out by heating the milk in a double boiler to 145° F., holding it at this temperature for 30 minutes and then rapidly cooling to 40° and keeping it at this low temperature until used.

Out-houses should be fly-proof and garbage should be enclosed in fly-proof cans or burned. Make the holiday safe for your health!

SALLY'S SALLIES

Canada to Supply Army with Universal Carriers

UNIVERSAL machine gun carriers will soon be added to the list of army vehicles made in Canada for the fighting forces at home and overseas. These are equipped with caterpillar treads and are very maneuverable and speedy. They are armed against small arms fire and will carry three Bren guns, or can be used to carry ammunition, wireless sets and other necessary equipment. They will be produced in the Windsor plant of Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited, which has been selected as the most suitable for the production of this vehicle. In the lower photograph, Mr. Wallace E. Campbell, president of the Canadian Ford organization, is shown with Lieut.-Col. D. C. Warner, officer commanding the Essex Tank Battalion, Windsor, inspecting one of the Universal carriers. Other army vehicles now made in the Ford plant in Windsor include the powerful four-wheeled drive tractor pictured above. These and other types of military vehicles are rolling off the assembly line of the Canadian Ford plant which is supplying nearly 10,000 units to the Canadian army and another 25,000 units for military purposes to other Empire governments. The plant is now being expanded by a $700,000 addition to provide facilities for building Universal carriers and to increase production of other types of military vehicles.

KEEP PRODUCING WHAT YOU HAVE PRODUCED

Canada's agricultural policy in relation to its war effort was disclosed by Hon. J. G. Gardiner at some length in discussions in the House of Commons during the week. When war came, he pointed out, there was in Canada considerable surpluses of most farm products. There was a very large surplus of wheat and even now it is the largest in history. There are also large surpluses of pork and dairy products at the present time.

Mr. Gardiner said that those who have studied the situation estimate that larger quantities of products would be required next summer because of the enlistment of farm hands in the army and other causes. What should the farmer produce? The Minister of Agriculture answered this question by these words: "We have been constantly saying, and we think it is the proper thing to say, that the farmers of Canada can best serve the interests of Canada and the interests of the Allies by continuing to produce those staple products which they were producing before the war started. That is in so far as they were producing wheat they should continue to produce wheat. In so far as they were producing different types of livestock they should continue to do so."

There might be some difficulty in marketing some of the less staple products such as fruit even during the later years of the struggle in which we were engaged, the Minister believed. There certainly would be difficulty during the earlier years. But the Government felt that those who had been engaged in the production of staple products should continue to cause those were the products which were going to be most needed through the war period. "If possible they should try to do it to better effect," he said. "They should try to produce a better product and a little more of that product if they can, but they should not attempt to switch rapidly from the production of one thing to the production of another."

CHEMICAL WARFARE ON HOUSE FLIES

Research laboratories which raise hundreds of thousands of flies a year to test the efficacy of a new synthetic death-dealing base for insect sprays, as well as numerous health boards, are opposed to the old-fashioned methods of swatting to rid domestic quarters of flies. The danger, they claim, lies in the fact that germs remain on the mangled body of the fly. The lethal chamber method, as carried out in the laboratory is recommended, says an editorial note in the June issue of C-I-L. Over the method advocated by the research chemists and health authorities is to close all windows and doors, fill the room with an evenly distributed mist from a spray-gun and after ten to fifteen minutes, the dead can be swept up, cremated or buried.

Cuba will check up on all political and religious refugees from Europe to learn whether they are violating any immigration laws, but chiefly to guard against espionage or sabotage.

WAINWRIGHT, WEDNESDAY, JULY 17th, 1940

HELPING THE ENEMY

The men who go around with their tongues wagging and their teeth chas-tising when all seems lost, says the Winchester Press, are not doing themselves or anyone else any good by predicting defeat for the Allies and uttering pro-German statements such as "We would be as well off under Nazi rule."

"Canadians who say that Germany will win this war are siding with Hitler. Don't be a defeatist—keep your chin up—the British Empire wasn't built in a day and no country in the world will tear it to pieces in a short period."

CIVILIZATION (?)

At the close of the last War, Louvain University was rebuilt with the funds furnished by American philan-thrope, and the architect provided for a tablet therein with this inscription in Latin: "Destroyed by German ferocity; restored by American generosity." A chorus of indignant protests from all parts of the civilized world smothered the proposed inscription. It was, the objectors claimed, an insult to a civilized and cruel nation, and a cruel attempt to perpetuate the shame of forgottenness of an unfortunate country.
Lest we forget, however—the new Louvain was destroyed by the same
"civilized and cultured nation" again
in 1940.—Hartland (N.B.) Observer.

KEEP YOUR TOWN ALIVE!

A town is very much like an individual. To be flourishing, it must have energy and enterprise. The people in a town should remember that individual prosperity depends to a large extent upon the character of the place in which their business is located.
Every public measure should be liberally supported by all, especially the business men.

At the present time there is much competition between towns as there is among persons and business enterprises. A man seeking a location will invariably select a town that is up to the times, and is eagerly in fact.

Young Bride Guest At Shower Party

Mrs. Guy Pigeon entertained at her home on Friday evening in honor of Mrs. Earl Lismore. About 25 guests were present to surprise the recent bride.

A pleasant programme of games and contests was heartily played and thoroughly enjoyed.
Later in the evening Mrs. Lismore was the recipient of a lovely array of gifts for use in her new home,
each bearing a wish for her future happiness.

A dainty lunch, served by the hostess, proved a fitting climax to the evening.

Pay For Those Called For Training

While a number of employers are reported to have guaranteed wages to their employees during the time spent in military training under national mobilization plans, there is no compulsion upon employers to do so, it was stated authoritatively on Monday.

The government will pay the men drafted for military training. Those taken on for part time training will get non-permanent militia rates of pay, that is $1.20 a day and keep.
This includes a uniform.

For periods of service longer than 40 days, the rate of pay would be based on regular active service schedules.

No dependents' allowances will be paid to men taking short period compulsory training, but all draftees taking for a longer period would be eligible for regular allowances in addition to pay.

Hon. T. C. Davis, deputy minister of national war services, said Monday that copies of regulations applying to mobilization of manpower, would be available shortly, and sent out to persons selected as registrars in each constituency. Chief registrars will be appointed for each province.

After the population is registered and the cards of all men from 19 to 45 segregated, the chief registrar will have charge of the cards of men eligible for military service. He will have the responsible task of deciding who is called and who is on the postponed list.

Before the men are called, it will be decided what are essential occupations. Hardest work, the belief will be regarded as cause for postponement of military training.

August 1 has been fixed as the date when the organization for taking the national registration will be completed. Mr. Justice T. C. Davis, joint deputy to Hon. J. G. Gardiner, minister of the national war services department, stated on Monday.

According to information received,
it is expected that the four-day registration will take place August 20th to 23rd, or within a few days of that time.

Mrs. C. Foster and family are away visiting relatives at Lamont.

SEARLE REPORT SHOWS SLIGHT IMPROVEMENT

During the past week the total moisture condition of Alberta has improved approximately 2 per cent.
Saskatchewan has gone back 1 per cent. and Manitoba is just the same as it was last week. Each of the three provinces, however, Saskatchewan particularly, contains large areas which are beginning to suffer badly from the lack of moisture.

Adding together the precipitation which occurred last fall with the rains which fell from April 1 to July 8, the total moisture condition in Alberta is now 88 per cent of normal, as compared with 86 per cent last week and 106 per cent at this time a year ago.

The similar total moisture condition
in Saskatchewan is now 74 per cent.
of normal, as compared with 75 per cent. a week ago and 126 per cent. at this time a year ago.

In Manitoba the total moisture condition is now 89 per cent. of normal, compared with 89 per cent. last week
and 86 per cent. at this time a year ago.

Taking the three Prairie Provinces
as a unit, and weighting for wheat acreage, the total moisture condition is now 80 per cent. of normal, as compared with the same figure—80 per cent. last week—and 115 per cent. at this time a year ago.

It will be noted that the moisture condition of the three provinces, as a unit, is now only 80 per cent. of normal, as compared with 115 per cent.
at this time last year.

The wheat plants have now headed out and so are beginning to draw heavily on the soil for moisture, and obviously that reserve moisture, in many large areas, is not present at this moment. This simply means that considerably better than normal rains will have to fall during the next three weeks if anything like an average yield is to be enjoyed. One can say conservatively that in certain areas
in each of the provinces, and particularly in Saskatchewan, the situation is already serious.

WEDDING BELLS

PROCTOR—HUBBAGEN

At the United Church parsonage on Saturday evening, Rev. A. D. Richard, the pastor, united in marriage Miss Doris Eleanor Hubbagen, of Scott, Sask., and Mr. John Alexander Proctor, of Morden, Sask.

Following the ceremony, the happy

DAVIS—KRAUSE

Rev. A. D. Richard, pastor of Wainwright United Church, performed
the marriage rites between Miss Dorothy Krause, of Provost, and Mr.
Albert Glenn Davis, of Edmonton.

The wedding took place at the United Church parsonage on Sunday last.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Tory returned on Wednesday from a motor trip
over the new Jasper-Banff highway
through the icefields of the Rockies.

A couple of dope peddlers were apprehended by Sergeant J. Collett, R.C.M.P., on Monday and the next day they were transferred to the powers that be in the city.

Mr. Russell Genderson was in town over the week end and to visit his parents were before returning to his duties with the R.C.D.C. in Edmonton.

After a month spent at Lake Simcoe, Ont., with relatives whom they had not seen for a number of years,
Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Wiley returned home last week and after an enjoyable holiday.

Parishioners of Blessed Sacrament church should note that for the next four Sundays (commencing July 21)
services will be held there at 9 a.m.

CONTINUATION OF

Vaudeville Show

gathering on this occasion may well feel proud of the reception given to the company, in their stage production, as well as the enjoyment derived by a very large crowd who danced away the midnight hours following the show as guests of the Wainwright agents and dealers.

Mr. E. LeLachur, the company's Northern Alberta superintendent, who was also introduced to the audience, spoke of the pleasure which they felt at the manner in which the concert was received, as well as for the splendid support given to his company's products throughout this district.

Organizations Can Now

Obtain Certificates

Answering the request of a number of patriotic groups in Canada, the War Savings Committee today announced the broadening of regulations covering the issue of War Savings Certificates. Certificates have heretofore been issued only to individuals, but these will be issuable in future to specific groups of individuals who wish to act in concert.

Limitations as to the amount of $500 which may be purchased in any single year, and other conditions remain unchanged.

Under the new regulations, incorporated or unincorporated bodies or organizations for the purpose of carrying on, without pecuniary gain to their members, objects of a national, imperial, patriotic, religious, educational, charitable, professional, social or sporting character or the like, including service clubs, labour and fraternal organizations, excepting those setting primarily as insurance or benefit societies, will be permitted to purchase War Savings Certificates.

With the revised authority, approved by Order-in-Council, the War Savings Committee is authorized to determine whether any group is eligible to purchase War Savings Certificates under the provisions of the regulations.

Plan Farmer Finance

Through Bank Loans

A new plan for financing farmers, unable on account of congested elevators, to deliver their grain this fall,
is proposed by the Board of Directors of United Grain Growers, Limited, in a statement made public following a meeting held in Calgary last week.
To enable banks to lend money on a broad scale to such farmers, on grain stored on farms, it is suggested that they be given a Government guarantee against loss up to a certain percentage of the total lent. This is simply the plan followed last year
last two Home Improvement Loans experience with which, it is pointed out, has been highly satisfactory both to the Government and to the banks.

Miscellaneous Shower For Mrs. Genderton

Complimenting a young bride of our district, Mrs. F. Morris and Mrs.
A. Hutchison were joint hostesses at a surprise shower on Friday evening.
The party, which was held at the home of Mrs. E. Genderton, honoree Mrs. Russell Genderton, who was recently married.

The guests, who numbered around 25, took part in some interesting contests and games appropriate to the occasion. Lunch was served by the hostesses after the guests. Honor had opened her many lovely and useful gifts which were presented to her with the best wishes of the gathering for much happiness in her married life.

Elevator Companies Ask Continuation of Tariffs

Detailed information relating to elevator storage earnings was laid before the Board of Grain Commissioners at the annual hearing relating to country and terminal tariffs held in Winnipeg last week. United Grain Growers, Pools and Line Companies appeared before the Board and requested continuation of the present schedule of charges.

G. W. P. Hoffmeyer, president of The North-West Line Elevators Association, presented figures to refute charges made by uninformed persons which have left the inference that elevator companies were making exorbitant profits from storage at the expense of the Government Wheat Board.

The president pointed out that the operating costs and plant maintenance of country and terminal elevators were mounting, due to the necessity of larger males, better cleaning equipment, increased labor costs at the head of the Lakes, increased taxation, and the necessity of guarding against sabotage. He contended that the present storage rate, which has been in existence for some years, of 1-3/4 of a cent per day, was originally constructed with the idea of providing a reasonable rate over a period of years and that since no one had ever suggested an increase during poor crop years it was totally unfair to suggest a decrease in good crop years.

TEEN AGE TROUBLES

VIVIDLY PORTRAYED

A high school boy story, "What a Life", has an appeal that is simple and human. You will laugh gleefully and cry without shame as you follow
the story of the adventures of "Henry Aldrich," who wasn't a bad boy but was blamed for all the bad things that happened in his school.

This Monday-Tuesday show, rich in blending of exciting comedy and heart-warming pathos, is all-family entertainment.

Henry is the goat; George Bigelow is the hypocrite. They steal Henry's sweetheart, Barbara, when she changes into a glamorous girl from an ugly duckling. Henry is blamed for putting a lighted candle under the teacher's chair, for starting a fight.
But Henry has two good friends, Mr.
Nelson, a teacher, and Miss Shea, in the office. They get him out of the scrape, meanwhile seeing that the boy who committed the theft of the hand instruments, George, is made to shoulder the blame.

BOARING DRAMA OF

KEEN WITH WINGS

Based on the recently-announced project whereby civilian fliers will be developed to aid in the country's defence, "20,000 Men a Year" will serve as adequate fare for the more enthusiastic aviation fans, particularly juveniles. The excellent topical idea of this picture offers numerous possibilities for an exploitable and generally entertaining feature at the Elite
this week end.

Thespie talent with which it has been endowed is above average, with Randolph Scott and Preston Foster
sharing the honors and Margaret Lindsay showing to advantage in the feminine lead.

The story finds Scott, a reckless old-time pilot, becoming head of an aviation training school for college-ians under government sponsorship.

GREENSHIELDS

This community was shocked to learn that Miss Mariel Hill had been rushed to hospital in the city, with acute appendicitis. Last accounts were that she was making favorable progress toward recovery.

We regret that Mr. W. Muncaster is ill at his home and wish him better health.

Attendance was small at the Ladies' Aid meeting but arrangements were completed for the annual basket picnic on Wednesday, July 17th.

Everyone welcome at Hutchison's Lake. Miss Jean McDougall, of Prince George, B.C., is enjoying a holiday with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Patterson are enjoying a holiday in Edmonton, Jasper and other places.

The postponed C.C.F. convention and picnic at Greenshields Hall will be held on Wednesday, July 17th.

Mr. Mac Templeton is busy these days sawing lumber at Lou Wallace's.

Mr. Lee Traynor visited over the week end with Mr. G. Noakes.

Moisture Needed To Assure Full Crop

The Bank of Montreal crop report says that crop conditions in most parts of Manitoba and Alberta are satisfactory at present, but in Saskatchewan many districts require good rains to prevent further deterioration.

Heading of wheat is general throughout the Prairie Provinces and the growth of coarse grains is mainly favorable. Some light damage from hail has occurred in scattered localities.

Grasshoppers have caused serious damage in south-eastern Alberta and south-western Saskatchewan. Pastures are in good condition in most districts. In the Province of Quebec crops have made only slow progress, owing to continuance of unseasonably low temperatures and excessive rains; warm, dry weather would rapidly improve the outlook.

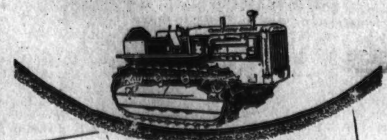

In Ontario satisfactory weather conditions have prevailed during the past week and the general outlook is now good. In the Maritime Provinces the past week has seen a continuance of unfavorable weather conditions and the season generally continues backward. In British Columbia hot, dry weather continues and although in general crop conditions at present are satisfactory, rain is urgently needed to prevent early deterioration.

Well distributed rains in central and southern areas of Alberta have checked deterioration and crop conditions throughout the Province remain generally satisfactory. Wheat is mostly in shot blade and in some districts has commenced to head out. Hail losses are slight. Coarse grains continue to make good progress. The sugar beet crop is in favorable condition and forage crops are good.

In Saskatchewan, moderately heavy rains have fallen in the north-eastern section of the Province but in many other districts, particularly the central area, good rains are urgently required. Heading out of the wheat is well advanced and crops in the north-eastern, west central and south-western sections are progressing satisfactorily. Crops in the extreme south-west have been badly damaged by grasshoppers. In other areas some deterioration, especially to stubble crops, is apparent due to heat and lack of moisture.

Light to moderate rains have been general throughout Manitoba. Wheat is mostly of good even growth and headed out. Coarse grains are developing well. A few points have experienced hail but the damage appears to have been light. Sugar beets are progressing favourably and pastures are in good condition.

Here the Tractor Hills and Coulees Can't Scare

Read How
Alex McCulloch, Clarinda, Alberta
Proved it on his own farm.

In referring to a piece of breaking, 179 acres, Mr. McCulloch says: "It is good land but rough, having coulees running in all directions. These coulees are so steep in places that you would think that the radiator would strike the opposite bank at the bottom and in these places, very often the two front wheels of the plow would drop into a washout making the pans out of sight. Yet it did not even make the 10. I consider it would have been impossible to break this piece of land with a wheel tractor and make a job of it."

With its broad track surfaces and gripping sprockets to provide plank-like, sure traction, the Diesel D2 is the answer for the farmer with hilly land. And aside from positive traction for hills and bad footing... think of the economy. This Diesel engine uses less cost fuel... in small amounts. It is saving farmers up to 60% in fuel costs over the spark-ignition power it replaces. Let us put one on your farm. Drive it yourself up your steepest grades... over your wettest low places... let it prove to you it's the tractor you need for your farm.

HEARTS WALKING

Mrs. Harry Pugh Smith

CHAPTER VIII

By the last week in July, Mr. Busby was next to finished at the Radcliffe house. There were only the loose ends to be tucked in. Janet began usually to wonder what would happen next. She had, after considerable research, decided on exactly what furnishings the old mansion required. She had the names of dealers and prices at her tongue's end, as well as neatly put down in a slender red notebook for Tony Ryan's consideration.

Duke had been engaged for several days in carefully weeding out the flower beds at the sides of the Radcliffe mansion. It was work at which he could sit down if his leg troubled him. The business of pruning the trees and cutting back the heavy shrubbery was to be left to Rufe under the supervision of the Earl of Jersey, so Duke said.

"Mr. Tony knows I can't handle no scythe," chuckled Duke, "but he promised to skin me alive if I missed any weed in those flower beds. Mr. Tony can't stand nothing slow-erly."

Janet's lips curled. "He expects you to earn your keep, does he?" "Yas'm."

"There's nothing like being able to eat your cake and have it, too," she remarked. "I mean, it isn't every-one who can make a beautiful gesture pay."

"Yas'm," agreed Duke doubtfully. He had no idea what she was talking about, but the man who had come up behind her knew. "I've seen the kids put under too many Good Time Charlies to let that happen to me," said Tony Ryan in a hard voice.

Janet turned with a little gasp. He had come in through the rear gate. Under the dark tan of his lean cheeks there was a red glow like the dusky flush on a copper vase. "I'd like it possible to have the house ready for occupancy by the twentieth of August," said. "Please buy what you think the house needs and have them send the bills to me."

She winced, and her old antagonism flared up. "The price is no object, naturally!" she asked.

He gave her a curious glance. "I want the best."

Theoretically, after she had been busy at the office for eight hours, Bernice should have been satisfied to stay quietly at home with Bill at night, only it had not worked out that way. She was generally tired by five and more and more inclined to feel sorry for herself because her friends had been doing just all day except play bridge or otherwise amuse themselves. She formed the habit of stopping in at one of their apartment after work. Usually the bunch was together somewhere having cocktails. They encouraged her to join them. When she came into the apartment that afternoon Bill was slumping things around in the kitchenette. "Hullo," he said, without looking up, his face like a thundercloud.

"The price is no object, naturally!" she asked.

"Hullo," said Bernice coldly, going into the dressing room to put her hat and gloves away.

The living room needed clearing of cigarette butts and scattered newspapers.

"Come and get it," called Bill from the dinette.

"Have you thought any more about going to the Fair with the bunch?" she asked after a while.

"For Pete's sake," he protested, "what is there to think about? I can't afford a jaunt like that and you know it!"

She meant to be generous, her heart was full of tenderness when she said, "I have money enough in the bank to pay our expenses to the Fair, Bill, if you'll go."

He started to his feet so violently she dropped her fork. "What are you trying to make out of me?" he cried in a tortured voice. "A gigolo?"

Bernice's cheeks flamed. "It's like you to be that unjust," she said. "Has it occurred to you that after I've pounded the typewriter from nine to five I'm not exactly in the mood to be shouted at the rest of the night?" she demanded.

Bill's mouth tightened. "Maybe you think I'm crazy about coming home to this sort of thing after I've tramped the streets all day trying to sell advertising?"

"Is that why you're not so hot at it?" she asked stungly.

He picked his hat up from where he had flung it. He did not speak or glance back as he jerked open the door and banged it behind him. Bernice stood very still, listening to his retreating steps. Suppose Bill did not come back?

She had a longing to run to her mother, to hide her head in Anne's lap as she had done, when a child if she had a nightmare or been frightened at something. She had stretched out her hand to take up the telephone when it rang. Bernice had meant to call Anne and ask if she could come over, but May was on the wire. "Meet us down in the lobby, kid. You and Bill are riding in our car."

"Bill isn't here," stammered Bernice, trying to conceal that she was crying. "We had one of our famous battles and he walked out on me."

"He'll be back," said May with a hearty laugh. "Surely you aren't going to give him the satisfaction of staying at home and moping. That's exactly what he'd like."

Bernice's round childish chin hardened. "All right," she said. "I'll meet you downstairs as soon as I can climb into my best bit."

When Bernice let herself back into the apartment a little after two Bill was there asleep on his side of the bed.

She closed the dressing room door cautiously before she started to undress. Her hands were not quite steady and her eyes did not focus correctly. That was how she happened to pull open Bill's drawer instead of her own in the chiffonier. That was why she did not at once recognize the stack of neatly cut out pictures which lay on Bill's pile of handkerchiefs.

The local newspaper had been running a contest for eight weeks. Each day they published a picture puzzle. There was a grand prize of five thousand dollars and a second of a thousand and a third of five hundred and forty of five dollars each. Bernice had never dreamed Bill was working at the contest. Yet there were the pictures painstakingly puzzled out and lettered in Bill's small cramped printing. Bernice's heart ached.

He had secured duplicates of each puzzle so that the set he finally sent in should be neat and legible. These were the ones he had worked from. They were almost tailored where he had written in and then rubbed out and rewritten his answers. In spots the cheap ragged paper had been worn through in holes from his patient eraser.

"Oh poor Bill!" Bernice whispered to herself.

For all the pictures were torn in half and in the waste basket beside the chiffonier lay a crumpled newspaper. Bernice picked it up with shaking hands. There were the names of the winning contestants. The winner of the grand prize headed them all in huge, black letters, the second in smaller type, the third in still smaller type, and at the bottom the inconspicuous column of forty who received five dollars each.

Bernice's trembling finger ran down the list. Bill had not received a prize, not any at all. His name did not appear anywhere on the page. Bernice felt an anguish of pity. She knew why Bill had wanted five thousand dollars, why he had clutched at this forlorn hope to save his self-respect, but he had failed.

"Oh, Bill!" whispered Bernice, crawling into bed beside him and putting her arm across him.

But even in his sleep he flinched away from her.

Gradually the stately old house began again to take on a gracious and gleaming aspect. Worn floors and wainscoting developed a bath sheen. In the dining room a shimmering and white leather-seated chairs rested on a hand-woven blue rug. Upstairs, prim rusted white curtains framed the windows of bedrooms in which there were mahogany four-poster beds and slipper chairs and chintz-covered chairs languid.

"Almost finished," breathed Janet, one sultry afternoon toward the middle of August. "The sooner I get away from here the better. The first thing I know I'll be breaking down and sobbing on the interloper's hearth rug."

A man stood at the foot of the stairs. "I'm sorry," he said. "I didn't mean to startle you."

He was a slight man, thin for his height. He looked to be about forty-five and his expensively tailored gray suit was a little shiny at the seams.

"You are Miss Phillips, of course," he went on. "I'm Steve Hill, a friend of Tony's. He's done me a great service by being alive."

The next afternoon he was in the library when she arrived, sitting on the cushioned window seat, turning the leaves of an exceptionally fine copy of Tristan and Isolde.

"Allah be praised, you don't buy books for the color of their bindings," he said.

A PIE THAT PLEASURES
 Here is a pie that pleases each member of the family as well as each guest who may be at your table. It's easy to make, inexpensive, but very delicious—what more may be asked of a pie? Try it while raspberries are in season.

Raspberry Cream Pie
 1-3 cups (1 can) sweetened condensed milk
 1 cup lemon juice
 1 cup raspberries
 1/2 cup whipping cream
 2 tablespoons confectioners' sugar

Vanilla Wafer Pie Crust or baked pastry shell Blend sweetened condensed milk and lemon juice. Stir until mixture thickens. Fold in raspberries. Pour into baked pastry shell or pie plate (9-inch) lined with Vanilla Wafer Pie Crust.

Crust. Cover with whipped cream sweetened with confectioners' sugar. Chill before serving.

Vanilla Wafer Pie Crust
 Roll enough vanilla wafers to make 1/4 cup of crumbs. Cut enough vanilla wafers in halves to stand around edge of pie plate. Cover bottom of plate with crumbs and fill in spaces between wafers. Pour in filling as usual.

Vanilla Ice Cream in Cantaloupe
 2 rennet tablets
 2 tablespoons cold water
 3 cups milk
 1 cup heavy cream (30%)
 1 cup sugar
 Pinch salt
 1 tablespoon vanilla.

Dissolve rennet tablets in the cold water. Warm milk, cream, sugar and salt to lukewarm (100° F.) in top of double boiler; remove from heat and quickly stir in the dissolved rennet tablets. Pour into freezer can and let stand at room temperature until firm; cool. Pack in a mixture of 6 parts ice to 1 part salt and freeze until stiff. Lift out can, remove the dasher, and replace cover, tightly corking hole. Empty ice and water from freezer, replace can, and repack using 12 parts ice to 1 part salt. Allow to stand several hours before serving.

Serve in halves of thoroughly chilled cantaloupes, with a garnish of sugared sliced peaches and fresh blackberries. Serves 8.

Sunkist Berets

(Serves 6)
 2 1/2 cups sliced raw beets
 1 cup orange juice
 1 tablespoon butter
 1 teaspoon salt
 1 teaspoon grated orange peel
 Peel raw beets and slice thin into buttered casserole. Pour on remaining ingredients. Cover and bake in moderate oven (350° F.) about one hour.

Sunkist Lemonade

For each person served, allow:
 1 Sunkist lemon
 1 to 3 tablespoons sugar or honey
 1 cup cold water
 Ice
 Extract lemon juice. Add sugar to taste. Stir to dissolve. Add water. Serve over ice in large glasses. Garnish with lemon slices.

A party of officers of the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve are now in training at a south coast depot in England, with other reservists. The training of Canadian naval officers with the Royal Navy does not introduce a new principle because many of the Dominion's permanent naval officers have undergone training in England. They are trained on exactly the same lines as officers of the Royal Navy.

An old German torpedo, upper left, makes an ideal seat for some of the officers as they take messages from semaphore signals. As part of their training, some of the volunteers are shown, right, rigging up

The World of Wheat

H. G. L. Stucke,
 Director, Research Department,
 Sears Grain Company, Ltd.

During the recent annual meeting of the Society of Technical Agriculturists, Dr. E. C. Stakman, of the University of Minnesota, who is an internationally renowned plant pathologist, informed the members that it must not be taken for granted that present rust-resistant wheats will always be resistant to stem rust; that, just as the plant breeder is taking different varieties of wheats, and is crossing them, hoping to produce something that will be more effective, so is Nature, on a grand scale, taking existing races of rust and is continually crossing them to produce new races. While most of these new rust hybrids, continued Dr. Stakman, are no more dangerous to plants than the parents, yet there is always a chance that one of them some day may be a super race, and that this new super race of rust might have the ability to damage wheat varieties that are now resistant to present forms of stem rust. However, Dr. Stakman said, the odds are greatly against this happening.

The thought that comes to mind from this is that the work of studying rust, and of attempting to breed superior wheat varieties, must be energetically continued by those quiet scientific servants of the farmers—the plant breeders and the plant pathologists.

Following factors have tended to raise price: World wheat production this year may be from 350 to 450 million bushels less than in 1939.—Russia has seized in Bessarabia the only bumper crop of wheat and corn in the Balkans—1940 wheat crops of China, Japan and Manchuria are expected to be well below average.

Following factors have tended to lower price: Great Britain has been obliged to attack portions of the French fleet to stop them from falling into German hands—Australian wheat carry-over officially estimated at 57 million bushels—Harvesting of wheat in Italy is progressing under favorable weather.

Greatly increased receipts of New Zealand railways is due in part to higher passenger and freight rates, heavy tourist traffic and gasoline rationing imposed on users of motor vehicles.

THE DIAL REVIEW
by Walter Dales

Radio is certainly assuming its responsibilities as far as keeping the public acquainted with war-time development. Another overseas news-cast has now been added to CJCA's schedule and will be heard hereafter each night at 9:00 o'clock.

Norm Butterill, assistant manager, at Sylvan Lake, Alta. Magoon, spending one week at the Calgary stampede and a couple laying on the Pacific Coast. Walter Blake, visiting his home town, Wainwright, for three weeks. Harry Bowley wouldn't disclose his destination!

Last broadcast for True or False this summer is booked for July 11, so do all the listening you can! The time is 9:30 p.m., Thursdays, from CJCA.

Ed Bryant to Sales Department
Listeners missing the voice of former chief announcer Ed Bryant have been writing for information. Ed is still with CJCA, but has been promoted to the sales department. He's doing fine, too!

There's verve, vigor, vim, vitality and vivacity. And there's Vicki Vols. Crowned by a shock of deep-hued copper hair is an active, eager face, which never seems to lose animation. Brown eyes sparkle—and Vicki, tout ensemble, has a way of listening to a person which gives the speaker the impression he is uttering the most important words in the world. You have to hear Vicki in action at the microphone to appreciate the personality she projects into her role in "The Man I Married," heard Mondays through Fridays from CJCA.

Family Man at New Time
Occupying a new spot in CJCA schedules is the popular, all-Canadian presentation, The Family Man. Hereafter you'll hear it Wednesdays at 10 p.m.

That swell singer on the Meredith Willson Musical Revue from CJCA on Tuesdays is Kay St. Germain—and she won her radio assignment by taking an audition on a dare. Bridge crochets dared her to audition for Anson Weeks. She did—and clicked! Tune her in Tuesdays, 6:30 p.m.
